Ike Pondering His Findings In Korea War

President-Elect Aboard Warship Headed For Heavy Storm, Hawaii

ABOARD USS HELENA, Dec. 6 — President-elect Dwight Eisenhower, aboard the battle scarred heavy cruiser Helena, headed toward a storm of near-typhoon size Saturday and studied a bigger problem: What to do about the Korean war.

He was on part of his return trip from his historic, three-day tour of the Korean war theater. The trip fulfilled his campaign pledge to the American people to take a first-hand look at the war and to try to find a path to peace.

Eisenhower told little of what he learned. There are "no panaceas, no trick ways," he said, of ending a war that has drawn in 17 nations on the Allied side and little North Korea and big Communist China on the other—with Soviet Russia supplying the sinews of the Red armies.

The leader eight years ago in Europe of the mightiest army the world has known planned to mull over the information he gathered on his Korean mission.

HE SAID HE would devote much time during the six-day cruise to Hawaii to studying this first great problem of his upcoming administration.

The Helena, a veteran of duels with Red Korean shore batteries, was cutting through the water at 32 miles an hour toward tiny Wake Island. There it was expected to pick up John Foster Dulles, Eisenhower's choice for secretary of state.

An intensive review of the whole Far Eastern problem seemed in the works.

But in the cruiser's path a tropical storm of near-typhoon intensity raged. Rough seas and some seasickness were in prospect for non-Navy personnel aboard.

The big cruiser, however, was expected to ride through the storm without difficulty.

Eisenhower made it clear, in a news conference on Friday before leaving Korea, that the task confronting the United Nations in the Korean threat to world peace is enormous. He said:

"How difficult it seems to be in a war of this kind, to work out a plan that would bring a positive and definite victory without possibly running grave risk of enlarging the war."

BUT EISENHOWER is confident of ultimate victory. "I am far from a defeatist," he recalled.

Eisenhower flew the 2,179 miles from Korea to Guam. His plane set down early Saturday morning at the Navy's Agana Air Station. There was a brief chat with high ranking naval air force officers and then the Eisenhower party was whisked the eight miles down Marine Drive to Apra Harbor and the Helena. The big warship put out to sea almost immediately.

Behind the general were three action-packed days in Korea that took him to the front within a short distance of the fighting.

Ohio Executions Being Delayed

COLUMBUS, Dec. 6 — There will be no further electrocutions in Ohio Penitentiary this year, largely because of the unrest which persists in the wake of the Halloween fire riot.

All three men now in the "death row" of the prison have been granted postponements. Gov. Frank J. Lausche says the reasons for the delays are the same:

1. Unrest at the institution.
2. Investigations regarding the offenders' pleas for executive clemency were not completed.

Cycle Showoff Ends In Hospital

DENNISON, Dec. 6 — Demonstrating a three-wheeled motorcycle to a fellow employee, John Fotheringham drove into an elevator shaft Friday at the Dennison Sewer Pipe Co.

He plunged 25 feet, breaking his pelvis, five ribs, a wrist and suffered possible internal injuries.

French Continuing Boycott Of UN's Tunisian Discussion

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Dec. 6 — The UN was to resume its French-boycotted debate on Tunisia Saturday in an atmosphere of explosive tension following the slaying of Tunisian independence leader Farhat Hached.

French spokesman said their delegation would not heed the pleas of fellow-diplomats to return during the discussion of an Arab-Asian bloc resolution supporting Tunisian demands for talks aimed at freeing the North African protectorate from French rule.

The French announced their boycott as the debate opened Friday. They claim the Tunisian question is France's own internal business and no concern of the UN.

Two of the Arab-Asian bloc nations that sponsored the resolution, Egypt and Indonesia, join Cuba on the list of speakers who will address the 60-nation Political Committee.

The atmosphere in the UN halls became heavily charged by news of the murder of Hached, Tunisian union leader whose body was found machinegunned on a highway south of Tunis.

Tunisian nationalist leader Salah Ben Youssef, who is attending the debate here, charged that Hached was assassinated by French "Red Hand Society" terrorists, who he said are supported by all French political parties in Tunisia except the Socialists. He also charged the group is supported by the French police and security forces.

A French spokesman denied that the "Red Hand movement" if it exists "was linked to French police or security forces. He described the murder as "foul, cowardly, beastly and disgusting."

A spokesman for Morocco, another French North African protectorate whose cause comes up next in the committee, charged that "colonial rulers" had responded to the Asian-Arab appeals for unisanship with "the death blow to Farhat Hached."

Guard To Set Up Ack-Ack Units In Ohio

COLUMBUS, Dec. 6 — The Ohio National Guard has been assigned the job of setting up anti-aircraft batteries to protect five of Ohio's key industrial areas—Youngstown, Warren, Dayton, Canton and Akron.

Enlistments in the ack-ack units, Adj. Gen. Albert E. Henderson announced, will be open to men over 35 as well as to those in the present 17-35 bracket. These units will accept enlistment of older men:

177th AAA Gun Battalion: Headquarters and Headquarters Battery, Youngstown; Battery A, Youngstown; Battery B, Alliance; Battery C, Kent; Battery D, Warren; Medical Detachment, Youngstown.

179th AAA Gun Battalion: Headquarters and Headquarters Battery, Cleveland; Battery A, Cleveland; Battery B, Cleveland; Battery C, Cleveland; Battery D, Toledo; Medical Detachment, Toledo.

180th AAA Gun Battalion: Headquarters and Headquarters Battery, Dayton; Battery A, Middletown; Battery B, Greenville; Battery C, Lima; Battery D, Piqua; Medical Detachment, Dayton.

Cuban Airliner Falls Into Sea

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Dec. 6 — The Cuban airliner "Star of the East," with 42 persons aboard, crashed into the sea about three miles off this island Saturday, shortly after taking off from the U. S. Air Force Base, Kindley Field.

The president of the Cubana Line, operators of the plane, said reports in Havana indicated an explosion occurred aboard just before the crash. A U. S. Coast Guard vessel directing rescue operations said four survivors had been picked up in choppy seas about three miles northeast of Kindley Field.

Ex-Ag Aide Is Indicted

Official Already Jailed Faces More Trouble

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6 — Jack Cowart, a former Agriculture Department official now in federal prison, has been indicted on charges of taking pay for exerting his official influence.

Atty. Gen. McGranery announced Friday a federal grand jury in nearby Alexandria, Va., handed down an indictment accusing Cowart and two others of "aided and abetted in the compensation to Cowart."

The indictment charges Cowart, 46, received a certificate for 163 shares of stock in the Baton Rouge Warehouse Co. operating a plant near Center, Tex., as compensation for services rendered the company when he was assistant to the administrator of the Production and Marketing Administration.

If convicted on the charges, the three men could be assessed maximum penalties of $10,000 fine, two years imprisonment or both. The Justice Department gave no details about the other two, named as Tom Foster and Jack Motley of Center, Tex.

COWART is serving an 18-month federal sentence in another case. He was convicted last April on a charge of accepting $1,374.40 from Capital Prefabricators, Inc., a Tyler, Tex., to help it recover a claim against the government while he was a government official.

The new indictment is based upon allegations that, while Cowart was an Agriculture Department employee and a stockholder in the warehouse firm, the company applied for and obtained contracts for storing Commodity Credit Corporation goods.

Cowart was fired in August, 1951, from his $10,500-a-year job in the Agriculture Department, which said he accepted money for speeding Capital Prefabricators' $13,743 claim against the government.

During a hearing on the case, Chairman Ellender (D-La.) of the Senate Agriculture Committee denounced Cowart as "just a common, ordinary crook."

Arsonist Given 3 Terms In Pen

AKRON, Dec. 6 — Louis Yeager, 65, of Canton, pleaded guilty to arson Friday and was sentenced to three concurrent terms in the Ohio Penitentiary.

He started a fire in the Akron home of his former wife, Mrs. Goldie Mack.

The judges ruled Nash was innocent of murder because he was insane at the time. But he must return to the Lima hospital. Psychiatrists there will decide when and if he is fit to return to society.

One of the three judges, U. S. McGonagle, explained it this way: "When a man is found not guilty of murder by reason of insanity, the law is mandatory that he must be confined at the Lima State Hospital. He then is kept there just as long as the institution wants to keep him."

Lawyer Group Asks Mayor For 1952 Data

Pickaway County Bar Association Saturday asked Circleville Mayor Ed Amey for a complete listing of his income from city cases for 1952.

A committee sent to the Mayor by the Association explained the data was sought as the first step in studying the possibility of a municipal court for Circleville.

"They want to find out if the court plan would be financially feasible here," the mayor said.

Committee representing the bar group in the action was Tom Renick, Joe Adkins and Emmitt Crist.

Amey earlier said he wasn't clear whether the committee represented Ed Wallace, county representative, the bar association or someone else. Adkins and Renick later confirmed the request had been made for the Association.

THE MAYOR said he would be glad to compile the information requested "since it will help clear the air and get down to the brass tacks of the question on a city court here."

Amey has frequently reminded the local public that numerous expenses would be involved in any municipal court operation, and that "many people may not be aware of all of them."

Portsmouth, the mayor said some time ago, ran into unexpected expenses operating its city court.

Wage Board Industry Aides Deciding Whether To Resign

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6 — Industry members of the Wage Stabilization Board are trying to decide whether to quit their jobs as their colleagues on the big Chicago regional WSB already have done.

The protest resignations of the seven industry members of the Chicago WSB said President Truman's coal wage decision "irrevocably ruined any hope for effective control of inflation" by direct wage ceilings.

Truman overruled the WSB two days ago and authorized a $1.90-a-day wage increase for John L. Lewis' coal miners. The WSB had said $1.50 a day was all the pay boost they could get without endangering anti-inflation controls.

Refusal to grant the full amount, Truman said, would precipitate a nationwide coal strike and confront President-elect Eisenhower with a "national emergency" when he takes office Jan. 20.

Mac Has Definite Solution To Korea

Ousted General Says His Plan Would Not Bring World War

NEW YORK, Dec. 6 — Gen. Douglas MacArthur, mentioning President-elect Dwight Eisenhower publicly for the first time since the election, says "there is a clear and definite solution to the Korean conflict."

MacArthur, in a speech Friday night to the National Association of Manufacturers, said he was confident a solution "can be executed without either an unduly heavy price in friendly casualties or any increased danger of provoking universal conflict."

The ousted Far East commander did not go into details, saying that basic decisions are involved in "which I recognize as improper for public disclosure or discussion." He said, "It is well known that my own views have not been sought in any way."

Even as MacArthur talked of a Korean solution and made his first public reference to Eisenhower since the election, the President-elect was on his way back to the United States after a visit to the Korean front.

Of Eisenhower and the Korean situation, MacArthur said:

"OUR RESPECTED President-elect has gone there in search for an honorable end to so tragic a slaughter, and all Americans join in prayer that he may safely accomplish his self-appointed task with vision and wisdom."

MacArthur's mention of Eisenhower appeared significant for these reasons:

While he gave the keynote address at the Republican National Convention last July, MacArthur did not endorse Eisenhower during the campaign.

Following the GOP election victory MacArthur voiced approval of the Republican success without referring specifically to Eisenhower.

MacArthur, who himself had been mentioned as a possible Republican choice for president, supported Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio for the nomination.

The MacArthur speech Friday night was carried across the nation by TV and radio. The more than 3,000 persons who overflowed the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel's grand ballroom interrupted him with applause time after time, prolonging his speech three minutes after the broadcast time expired.

MACARTHUR, who was ousted from his Far East post by President Truman and now is chairman of the board of Remington Rand, Inc., said it is "our duty as citizens to rally in firm support of the new administration."

The former Far East commander said the present course in Korea was leading toward a world war. He then turned to his views on a possible solution.

Saying conditions have changed in the 20 months since he left Korea, MacArthur added that "the solution then available and capable of success is not now entirely applicable."

MacArthur's proposals 20 months ago included bombing of Red bases in Manchuria, blockading the Red China coast, and utilizing Nationalist Chinese forces.

His ouster and proposals whipped up a controversy climaxed by a dramatic series of congressional hearings.

11 Red Planes Attack As Ike Leaves Korea

SEOUL, Dec. 6 — The U. S. Fifth Air Force reported Saturday it repelled the "largest enemy night air attack of the Korean war," while President-elect Dwight Eisenhower was leaving Korea.

The Air Force said Allied radar in a three-hour period beginning at 7:10 p. m. Friday night picked up a total of 11 "hostile aircraft" roaring towards Seoul. Gen. Eisenhower's plane took the air at 8:01 p. m. and the attack continued about two hours after that.

The Air Force spokesman said an earlier statement by Far East Air Force Gen. O. P. Weyland that "not a single enemy aircraft of any kind was able to penetrate south of the Chongchon River" during Eisenhower's visit was based on earlier information.

The spokesman said, however, the planes making the attack were small and propeller driven.

"It is highly possible," he said, "that these little planes did not come from Manchuria or deep in North Korea. Planes of that type can be hidden under any hay stack and their home base might have been in Korea near the spot where the attack took place."

"In that case they would not have had to fly through the effective air cover further north."

The Air Force also announced one F86 Sabre jet was lost in combat over Mig alley this week.

Slayer, 28, Faces Death In Chair

COLUMBUS, Dec. 6 — A sailor or father of three children who killed the wife of a Navy buddy (also the father of three) must die in Ohio's electric chair April 1.

This was the verdict Friday of a three-judge court which found Robert Gemmell, 28, guilty of first-degree murder in the beating-strangling death of Mrs. Laura Grimshaw, 25, in her Columbus home July 31. Gemmell, testifying Friday in a final bid to escape the electric chair, said Mrs. Grimshaw had three love trysts with him last July while Robert Grimshaw, also 28, her husband, was hospitalized with a broken ankle.

South Korean Chief Reveals Talk Details

ROKs Say They Expect General To Break Current Stalemate

SEOUL, Dec. 6 — South Korean President Syngman Rhee said Saturday that U. S. President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower made no commitments during his three-day Korean tour.

But Rhee added that he expects Ike will "break the Korean stalemate." The South Korean chief executive said he had told Eisenhower "foreign troops could be relieved from the frontline if ROK (Republic of Korea) forces are sufficiently increased, trained and equipped to be able to defend ourselves."

Rhee did not elaborate on what he considers a sufficient increase. There are at least 12 ROK divisions in the field currently.

The white-haired, 77-year-old South Korean leader said he also urged Eisenhower during the general's three-day tour of the war theater "to end the Korean stalemate as soon as possible."

Presumably that meant an all-out drive to the Manchurian border. Rhee called for such an offensive earlier this week.

A RELIABLE South Korean official source said earlier his government had urged Eisenhower to double the strength of ROK forces. There are now at least 12 South Korean divisions.

Eisenhower gave public assurances that the Korean Army will be made "a lot bigger and better."

The general who commanded Allied fighting forces in Europe during World War II called the South Koreans "splendid troops, real fighting men."

In declaring South Koreans could replace Allied troops on the line, Rhee took up an Eisenhower election campaign argument that the ROK Army could be built up and eventually make the entire front.

Eisenhower, in a letter released by the South Korean government said he would give Rhee's proposal "careful study and consideration." Rhee said he made the following suggestions to Eisenhower:

1. That the Korean stalemate be ended "as soon as possible."
2. That Republic of Korea defense forces be increased, trained and equipped.
3. If this is done, "foreign troops could be relieved from the front lines."
4. Korea needs help in its economy and industry, as well as military aid.

An authoritative government source said these suggestions were only an outline of a seven-point proposal made by acting Prime Minister Paik To Chin.

PAIK CONFIRMED that he had written a letter to Eisenhower summing up "all our requests since the outbreak of the war." The government source said he believes Rhee also wrote a covering note outlining the Korean problems detailed in Paik's letter and that the two letters were in the same envelope given to Eisenhower.

After conferring with Eisenhower, a government spokesman said, President Rhee "is more confident than ever for the future of Korea." The spokesman quoted Rhee as saying the government and people "have been greatly inspired" by the Eisenhower visit.

Everest Defeats Climbers, Report

NEW DELHI, Dec. 6 — Reliable reports reaching here from Katmandu, capital of neighboring Nepal, said a Swiss expedition attempting to climb towering Mt. Everest, highest peak in the world, has been beaten back by buffeting winds and 30-degree below zero cold.

The reports said the Swiss climbers abandoned their attempt Nov. 20. No one has ever reached the peak of Mt. Everest, more than 29,000 feet high, and returned to tell about it.

French Continuing Boycott Of UN's Tunisian Discussion

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Dec. 6 — The UN was to resume its French-boycotted debate on Tunisia Saturday in an atmosphere of explosive tension following the slaying of Tunisian independence leader Farhat Hached.

Slayer Of Five Freed; Judges Cite Insanity

NEW LEXINGTON, Dec. 6 — A 58-year-old slayer of his wife and four children is free of any threat of death in the electric chair, but the question of whether he ever will return to a place in society remained unanswered.

Vincent Nash, once a part-time farmer, part-time coal miner, killed his entire family with an ax eight years ago.

The date was Sept. 10, 1944. Nine days later a sanity test was ordered. A month later, he entered the Lima State Hospital for the criminal insane. Two weeks ago, Dr. R. E. Bushong, hospital superintendent, ruled Nash now is sane.

Friday Nash appeared before a three-judge court in New Lexington, his home county seat. His home at the time of the slayings was in Crooksville.

The judges ruled Nash was innocent of murder because he was insane at the time. But he must return to the Lima hospital. Psychiatrist there will decide when and if he is fit to return to society.

6 Children Killed As Blast Wrecks Home

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 6 — A natural gas explosion which reduced a three-story frame home to a pile of rubble killed all six children of a Pittsburgh family Friday night.

Fire Chief Stephen Adley said the blast in the semi-industrial North Side section of this steel capital resulted from an auto skidding into a retaining wall and breaking an exposed natural gas main leading into the house.

The victims, charred beyond recognition, were sleeping when the blast rocked the neighborhood.

Nearly five hours later firemen, carefully picking up bits of the house with auto wrecker cranes, recovered the last of the bodies of the five sons and a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Moulis. The victims:

David, 14, Richard, 13, Lois, 12, James, 10, Geary, 6 and Robert 5.

Moulis, 37, and his 36-year-old wife, Rose, were literally blown from the house. They were in a state of shock and nearly incoherent as they crawled from the wreckage, their faces blackened like coal miners. They suffered only minor injuries.

Mac Has Definite Solution To Korea

Ousted General Says His Plan Would Not Bring World War

NEW YORK, Dec. 6 — Gen. Douglas MacArthur, mentioning President-elect Dwight Eisenhower publicly for the first time since the election, says "there is a clear and definite solution to the Korean conflict."

MacArthur, in a speech Friday night to the National Association of Manufacturers, said he was confident a solution "can be executed without either an undue heavy price in friendly casualties or any increased danger of provoking universal conflict."

The ousted Far East commander did not go into details, saying that basic decisions are involved "which I recognize as improper for public disclosure or discussion." He said, "It is well known that my own views have not been sought in any way."

Even as MacArthur talked of a Korean solution and made his first public reference to Eisenhower since the election, the President-elect was on his way back to the United States after a visit to the Korean front.

Of Eisenhower and the Korean situation, MacArthur said:

"OUR RESPECTED President-elect has gone there in search for an honorable end to so tragic a slaughter, and all Americans join in prayer that he may safely accomplish his self-appointed task with vision and wisdom."

MacArthur's mention of Eisen-

hower appeared significant for these reasons:

While he gave the keynote address at the Republican National Convention last July, MacArthur did not endorse Eisenhower during the campaign.

Following the GOP election victory MacArthur voiced approval of the Republican success without referring specifically to Eisenhower.

MacArthur, who himself had been mentioned as a possible Republican choice for president, supported Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio for the nomination.

The MacArthur speech Friday night was carried across the nation by TV and radio. The more than 3,000 persons who overflowed the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel's grand ballroom interrupted him with applause time after time, prolonging his speech three minutes after the broadcast time expired.

MACARTHUR, who was ousted from his Far East post by President Truman and now is chairman of the board of Remington Rand, Inc., said it is "our duty as citizens to rally in firm support of the new administration."

The former Far East commander said the present course in Korea was leading toward a world war. He then turned to his views on a possible solution.

Saying conditions have changed in the 20 months since he left Korea, MacArthur added that "the solution then available and capable of success is not now entirely applicable."

MacArthur's proposals 20 months ago included bombing of Red bases in Manchuria, blockading the Red China coast, and utilizing Nationalist Chinese forces.

His ouster and proposals whipped up a controversy climaxed by a dramatic series of congressional hearings.

11 Red Planes Attack As Ike Leaves Korea

SEOUL, Dec. 6 — The U. S. Fifth Air Force reported Saturday it repelled the "largest enemy night air attack of the Korean war," while President-elect Dwight Eisenhower was leaving Korea.

The Air Force said Allied radar in a three-hour period beginning at 7:10 p. m. Friday night picked up a total of 11 "hostile aircraft" roaring toward Seoul. Gen. Eisenhower's plane took the air at 8:01 p. m. and the attack continued about two hours after that.

The Air Force spokesman said an earlier statement by Far East Air Force Gen. O. P. Weyland that "not a single enemy aircraft of any kind was able to penetrate south of the Chongchon River" during Eisenhower's visit was based on earlier information.

The spokesman said, however, the planes making the attack were small and propeller driven.

"It is highly possible," he said, "that these little planes did not come from Manchuria or deep in North Korea. Planes of that type can be hidden under any hay stack and their home base might have been in Korea near the spot where the attack took place."

"In that case they would not have had to fly through the effective air cover further north."

The Air Force also announced one F86 Sabre jet was lost in combat over Mig alley this week.

Slayer, 28, Faces Death In Chair

COLUMBUS, Dec. 6 — A sailor or father of three children who killed the wife of a Navy buddy (also the father of three) must die in Ohio's electric chair April 1.

This was the verdict Friday of a three-judge court which found Robert Gemmell, 28, guilty of first-degree murder in the beating-strangling death of Mrs. Laura Grimshaw, 25, in her Columbus home July 31. Gemmell, testifying Friday in a final bid to escape the electric chair, said Mrs. Grimshaw had three love trysts with him last July while Robert Grimshaw, also 28, her husband, was hospitalized with a broken ankle.

South Korean Chief Reveals Talk Details

ROKs Say They Expect General To Break Current Stalemate

SEOUL, Dec. 6 — South Korean President Syngman Rhee said Saturday that U. S. President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower made no commitments during his three-day Korean tour.

But Rhee added that he expects Ike will "break the Korean stalemate." The South Korean chief executive said he had told Eisenhower "foreign troops could be relieved from the frontline if ROK (Republic of Korea) forces are sufficiently increased, trained and equipped to be able to defend ourselves."

Rhee did not elaborate on what he considers a sufficient increase. There are at least 12 ROK divisions in the field currently.

The white-haired, 77-year-old South Korean leader said he also urged Eisenhower during the general's three-day tour of the war theater "to end the Korean stalemate as soon as possible."

Presumably that meant an all-out drive to the Manchurian border. Rhee called for such an offensive earlier this week.

A RELIABLE South Korean official source said earlier his government had urged Eisenhower to double the strength of ROK forces. There are now at least 12 South Korean divisions.

Eisenhower gave public assurances that the Korean Army will be made "a lot bigger and better."

The general who commanded Allied fighting forces in Europe during World War II called the South Koreans "splendid troops, real fighting men."

In declaring South Koreans could replace Allied troops on the line, Rhee took up an Eisenhower election campaign argument that the ROK Army could be built up and eventually man the entire front.

Eisenhower, in a letter released by the South Korean government said he would give Rhee's proposal "careful study and consideration." Rhee said he made the following suggestions to Eisenhower:

1. That the Korean stalemate be ended "as soon as possible."
2. That Republic of Korea defense forces be increased, trained and equipped.
3. If this is done, "foreign troops could be relieved from the front lines."
4. Korea needs help in its economy and industry, as well as military aid.

An authoritative government source said these suggestions were only an outline of a seven-point proposal made by acting Prime Minister Paik Too Chin.

PAIK CONFIRMED that he had written a letter to Eisenhower summing up "all our requests since the outbreak of the war." The government source said he believes Rhee also wrote a covering note outlining the Korean problems detailed in Paik's letter and that the two letters were in the same envelope given to Eisenhower.

After conferring with Eisenhower, a government spokesman said, President Rhee "is more confident than ever for the future of Korea." The spokesman quoted Rhee as saying the government and people "have been greatly inspired" by the Eisenhower visit.

If an enemy pulls another surprise "Pearl Harbor attack" on the United States, as the Japanese staged 11 years ago Sunday, Pickaway and Franklin County civil defense organizations would work in close co-ordination.

This point was emphasized Friday in a communication from George F. Arnold, head of civilian defense work in Columbus and other sections of Franklin County.

The newly-formed group is intended only to supplement and not overlap any of the existing civil defense setups. Want A Kitten? Just Send Child Down Street And Get Milk Ready

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—The last time I saw my goddaughter Nina, 5, her parents had concluded after much discussion that they finally would make the great sacrifice and get her a kitten.

As godparents, Frances and I were in on a sort of board meeting to consider whether Nina was ready for a cat. We examined the evidence—that, is, every place the family visited where there was a cat Nina spent all the time lugging the animal around in her arms. She brought the neighbors' cats to the house. And asked wistfully if she could show them her bedroom. She put saucers of milk on the back porch because "then cats will like me, won't they, Mommy?"

The conclusion was unanimous. Yes, Nina needed a cat.

The question was how to go about getting one. We all had something to offer. Nina's mother remembered a woman who got her little girl a kitten by answering an ad in the daily paper.

I said that as a godfather I would like the privilege of giving Nina a kitten and that I remembered vaguely that someone had offered me one not long ago. I was sure if I retraced my steps a bit I'd remember who and when it was and could easily come up with a kitten.

Everyone politely agreed, yes, it would be a fine thing, but there was a when do you think you'll get around to it look in their eyes.

Frances remembered a cat fancier in the office and was sure that one cat fancier and if you went through enough cat fanciers you were bound by the laws of nature to come up with a kitten.

Nina's mother already had checked her new neighbors and had put them to checking more neighbors, so that line was out.

Nina's father offered the solution of going to the ASPCA headquarters, wherever that might be, but we all knew that would result in coming home with just any cat. And we wanted the pick of the lot.

We had long since discarded Persian, Siamese or Angoras as possibilities and never gave a thought to the local pet store because who ever heard of buying an ordinary kitten in a pet store?

But at the conclusion of the meeting we were determined to have a kitten under Nina's Christmas tree by Dec. 25.

The rest of the story I got by hearsay.

Nina's mother had a letter to be mailed and couldn't go out because the baby was sick. So she bundled up Nina and her sister, Vona, and sent them two blocks down the street to the nearest mailbox. She watched the two little girls carefully cross the road with the old familiar mother feeling of "Why do I ever scold them? Bless their little hearts."

Fifteen minutes later she was watching again, a little nervous because they never had gone so far alone before. Then she saw them re-cross the street carefully, tiny things in their bright snow-suits. As they came up on the porch she saw that Nina had a small shiny black kitten clutched to her.

"Whose kitten are you playing with?" she asked.

Their eyes were sparkling as they said breathlessly, "It's ours!"

The mother explained carefully that it was all right to play with other people's kittens but they shouldn't walk off with them.

Nina insisted that a little girl had given it to them in front of a brick house somewhere around the corner. Twenty minutes and four phone calls later her mother hung up the telephone and said, "Well, Nina, you're right. You can keep the kitten."

And Nina said the simplest but most rewarding thing a child ever can say to a parent: "I'm happy."

The cat was named Jet because of his shiny black color and because he moved only slightly slower than a jet plane.

All of which goes to prove that in at least one way life is just as simple as it always has been. If you want a kitten, forget about ads in the paper, letters to the editor, the ASPCA, neighbors, cat fanciers, and even godparents. Just send a small child two blocks down the street and have a saucer of milk waiting when she gets back.

Columbus, Circleville To Team For Any 'Pearl Harbor' Crisis

If an enemy pulls another surprise "Pearl Harbor attack" on the United States, as the Japanese staged 11 years ago Sunday, Pickaway and Franklin County civil defense organizations would work in close co-ordination.

This point was emphasized Friday in a communication from George F. Arnold, head of civilian defense work in Columbus and other sections of Franklin County.

Pickaway County residents would be asked to undertake large scale emergency work, Arnold said, if an enemy bombing attack struck at any of the target cities in this section of the state.

REFERRING to the recent conference of civil defense spokesmen from all over the nation and this county's role in regional plans, Arnold said:

"I started the conference with the idea of strengthening the civil defense picture throughout the United States and I know that our purpose has been accomplished. Much interest has been shown within the last week in follow-up letters by the various Civil Defense directors.

"As far as we are concerned in Franklin County, Pickaway County is a definite part of our overall civil defense picture. Our medical services has Circleville included in their plans if evacuation of injured persons becomes a necessity. Our welfare service has also included your county and city in the shelter picture.

"If there were a disaster in Columbus, we would have to call on cities within a radius of seventy-five miles for help. Therefore, there is need for all surrounding counties to train personnel, not so much for help in your own county, but to assist the nearby cities with man-power and equipment if disaster should strike.

"We have recently had a meeting with our Ground Observer Corps personnel and feel that a concerted effort should be made throughout Ohio to establish all watch posts on a twenty four hour basis."

Circleville residents had already been warned the locality would be expected to care for disaster victims in need of medical care, but Arnold's reference to Pickaway County's share in emergency shelter plans as well had not generally been underlined.

Bible Words To Live By

I Corinthians: 13:8 — "Love never faileth; but whether there be prophecies, they shall fail; whether there be tongues, they shall cease; whether there be knowledge, it shall vanish away."

This is my favorite verse of scripture because it contains a truth that shall solve all the problems of man, whether they be personal, community, national or international.

The Bible tells us God is love. The creative power of the universe—the philosopher's "cohesive principle" and "spirit of mutuality"—the biologist's principle of life found in every cell; the physicist's power and energy of the atom; the psychologist's urge and means to an integrated personality—all of these are descriptive of God in action, the love that never fails.

This creative energy of the universe at work on the human level in social relationships is kind—honest — righteous — just — humble — unselfish—is not easily provoked — thinks no evil—gives the other person the benefit of the doubt. The sum total of all these attitudes is love in action.

This energy controlling man's thinking and motivating man's attitudes and actions will solve all his problems. Love never fails.

Attitude Theme Is Scheduled In Christ Church

Regular meeting of the church of Christ will be held Sunday in Farm Bureau Home, 159 E. Main St. Bible Study will be at 9:45 a. m. and worship at 10:30 a. m.

Sermon subject will be "Attitudes and Consequences." This lesson will deal primarily with attitudes manifest by various Bible characters and will show the consequence of such attitudes. The account of the good Samaritan in Luke 10 will be used to contrast the attitudes of the Priest and Levite with the good Samaritan who only of the three proved to be neighbor to the man that fell among thieves. The necessity of having the proper attitude in respect to all religious activities will be emphasized.

Beginning with the 7:30 p. m. service, Evangelist Charles Cochran will begin a series of Sunday evening sermons on "The Bible." First lesson in this series will deal with "The God of the Bible" and will set forth reasons why we believe in God.

Following lessons will be: "Why We Believe The Bible Is The Word of God," "How We Got Our Bible," "The Harmony of Science and the Bible," and "How To Study The Bible." Many of these will be illustrated with chart diagrams.

On each Tuesday evening at 7:30 p. m. there will be studies conducted from the Old Testament scriptures. The present studies are taken from the book of Genesis. All may have a part in these studies.

Advent Sermon To Be Heard By Presbyterians

The season of Advent, including the four Sundays preceding Christmas, commemorates the coming of Jesus Christ.

During this season in Presbyterian church, emphasis is laid upon the promises of God to redeem mankind from the unbreakable bonds of accumulative sin that have enslaved the souls of men and nations.

The Rev. Donald Mitchell Sunday will preach upon "The Dawn of Redeeming Grace," using the promise recorded in the 61st chapter of Isaiah and showing how this has left its imprint and its influence upon the advancing of Christian civilization.

In the Sunday school classes which meet during the hour before the worship, varying emphasis will be used to teach the facts about the Advent of Jesus.

The choir, directed by Mrs. Clark Will, is to sing an anthem, "Seek Ye The Lord," with Mr. Melvin Yates singing the tenor solo part. The choir also will lead the congregation in singing "Hail to the Lord's Anointed," and carols "O Little Town of Bethlehem" and "Angels From The Realms of Glory."

In the afternoon, Westminster Fellowship Youth group, together with the choir, will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Dountz.

Student Pastor Due To Speak For Lutherans

Worship service Sunday in Trinity Lutheran church, Second Sunday in Advent, will be centered around the theme "No Room for Jesus" and based on the texts Luke 2:7 and Matt. 2:3-5.

Student Pastor Jacques Schweiss will bring out the fact that "at the time of Jesus' birth there was no room for him in the busy business world, nor in the self-sufficient capital city of Jerusalem, nor was there room for Jesus in the religious institutions of his day."

He will then pose the questions: "Do we make room for Jesus in our business? Do we give to Jesus His proper place in our city of Circleville? Do we even provide an adequate space for Jesus in our church and her various programs? During this season of bustling activity are we going to find room for Jesus?"

Children's choir will sing an anthem "Adoration." This is the first time the children's choir of the church has led the congregation in the singing of hymns for the worship service. Hymns will be "Holy, Holy, Holy," "The Glad Sound! The Savior Comes" and "Beautiful Savour."

Lutheran Men See Film Strips

Following the opening devotions, business and lunch, members of the Trinity Lutheran Brotherhood enjoyed a varied program last Thursday evening.

The Rev. George Troutman presented a film-strip on the tabernacle Moses built in the desert after the Exodus of the children of Israel from Egypt.

Purpose for showing this film-strip was two-fold. First it informed the Brotherhood members on the make-up of the tabernacle. Secondly, the Brotherhood could see the type of visual aids and equipment that they have purchased for the Sunday school and the Vacation Bible School.

Then Richard Penn gave a talk on atomic energy. He gave an explanation of the various terms that the layman comes in contact with in his every day reading. He further told of his work in atomic energy research during the last war.

He ended with a discussion of the Pike County atomic energy development.

The men were then divided in half for a contest. They were asked questions concerning their own church. Interest ran high, and often a lively discussion developed as a result of a question and its answer.

Fidelis Chorus, under the direction of Jim Brown, will sing an anthem, "Jesus May Come Today."

Of his Sunday sermon, the Rev. Mr. Wilson comments: "Christmas is no longer confined to one day—the 25th of December. It begins weeks before and extends days beyond. The period before Christmas may be a strenuous time of shopping and many other activities."

"After Christmas, many are exhausted from the activity of the holiday. There is always a danger that the real meaning and spirit of Christmas may be crowded out of our thinking and living. It is well for man to pause and consider the real meaning of this holy day on which God gave a Savior Son to the world."

"The world's supreme need at this Christmastime is that room should be made for the Christ Child. Our world has come nigh to perishing because it has made room for everything except the one thing needful—the love which came on that first Christmas Day. Christmas is not the commemorating of an isolated fact."

"It is the day of days on which we are to realize that the coming of God to man in His Holy Spirit is a continuous process, and that each of us at this season of the year can become human tabernacles for the indwelling of the Most High. The Spirit of Christmas is Christ."

Church school classes are to study a lesson, "Jesus, the Great Teacher."

Bible Words To Live By

I Corinthians: 13:8 — "Love never faileth; but whether there be prophecies, they shall fail; whether there be tongues, they shall cease; whether there be knowledge, it shall vanish away."

This is my favorite verse of scripture because it contains a truth that shall solve all the problems of man, whether they be personal, community, national or international.

The Bible tells us God is love. The creative power of the universe—the philosopher's "cohesive principle" and "spirit of mutuality;" the biologist's principle of life found in every cell; the physicist's power and energy of the atom; the psychologist's urge and means to an integrated personality—all of these are descriptive of God in action, the love that never fails.

This creative energy of the universe at work on the human level in social relationships is kind—honest—righteous—just—humble—unselfish—is not easily provoked—thinks no evil—gives to the other person the benefit of the doubt. The sum total of all these attitudes is love in action.

This energy controlling man's thinking and motivating man's attitudes and actions will solve all his problems. Love never fails.

Attitude Theme Is Scheduled In Christ Church

Regular meeting of the church of Christ will be held Sunday in Farm Bureau Home, 159 E. Main St. Bible Study will be at 9:45 a. m. and worship at 10:30 a. m.

Sermon subject will be "Attitudes and Consequences." This lesson will deal primarily with attitudes manifest by various Bible characters and will show the consequence of such attitudes. The account of the good Samaritan in Luke 10 will be used to contrast the attitudes of the Priest and Levite with the good Samaritan who only of the three proved to be neighbor to the man that fell among thieves. The necessity of having the proper attitude in respect to all religious activities will be emphasized.

Beginning with the 7:30 p. m. service, Evangelist Charles Cochran will begin a series of Sunday evening sermons on "The Bible." First lesson in this series will deal with "The God of the Bible" and will set forth reasons why we believe in God.

Following lessons will be: "Why We Believe The Bible Is the Word of God," "How We Got Our Bible," "The Harmony of Science and the Bible," and "How To Study The Bible." Many of these will be illustrated with chart diagrams.

On each Tuesday evening at 7:30 p. m. there will be studies conducted from the Old Testament scriptures. The present studies are taken from the book of Genesis. All may have a part in these studies.

Advent Sermon To Be Heard By Presbyterians

The season of Advent, including the four Sundays preceding Christmas, commemorates the coming of Jesus Christ.

During this season in Presbyterian church, emphasis is laid upon the promises of God to redeem mankind from the unbreakable bonds of accumulative sin that have enslaved the souls of men and nations.

The Rev. Donald Mitchell Sunday will preach upon "The Dawn of Redeeming Grace," using the promise recorded in the 61st chapter of Isaiah and showing how this has left its imprint and its influence upon the advancing of Christian civilization.

In the Sunday school classes which meet during the hour before the worship, varying emphasis will be used to teach the facts about the Advent of Jesus.

The choir, directed by Mrs. Clark Will, is to sing an anthem, "Seek Ye The Lord," with Mr. Melvin Yates singing the tenor solo part. The choir also will lead the congregation in singing "Hail to the Lord's Anointed," and carols "O Little Town of Bethlehem" and "Angels From the Realms of Glory."

In the afternoon, Westminster Fellowship Youth group, together with the choir, will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Dountz.

Student Pastor Due To Speak For Lutherans

Worship service Sunday in Trinity Lutheran church, Second Sunday in Advent, will be centered around the theme "No Room for Jesus" and based on the texts Luke 2:7 and Matt. 2:3-5.

Student Pastor Jacques Schweiss will bring out the fact that "at the time of Jesus' birth there was no room for him in the busy business world, nor in the self-sufficient capital city of Jerusalem, nor was there room for Jesus in the religious institutions of his day."

He will then pose the questions: "Do we make room for Jesus in our business? Do we give to Jesus His proper place in our city of Circleville? Do we even provide an adequate space for Jesus in our church and her various programs? During this season of bustling activity are we going to find room for Jesus?"

Children's choir will sing an anthem "Adoration." This is the first time the children's choir of the church has led the congregation in the singing of hymns for the worship service. Hymns will be "Holy, Holy, Holy," "The Glad Sound! The Savior Comes" and "Beautiful Savior."

Lutheran Men See Film Strips

Following the opening devotions, business and lunch, members of the Trinity Lutheran Brotherhood enjoyed a varied program last Thursday evening.

The Rev. George Troutman presented a film-strip on the tabernacle Moses built in the desert after the Exodus of the children of Israel from Egypt.

Purpose for showing this film-strip was two-fold. First it informed the Brotherhood members on the make-up of the tabernacle. Secondly, the Brotherhood could see the type of visual aids and equipment that they have purchased for the Sunday school and the Vacation Bible School.

Then Richard Penn gave a talk on atomic energy. He gave an explanation of the various terms that the layman comes in contact with in his every day reading. He further told of his work in atomic energy research during the last war.

He ended with a discussion of the Pike County atomic energy development.

The men were then divided in half for a contest. They were asked questions concerning their own church. Interest ran high, and often a lively discussion developed as a result of a question and its answer.

Sunday's service will begin with Mrs. Verneal Thomas playing an organ prelude, "Melody." Other numbers by Mrs. Thomas will be "Reverie" and "Postlude."

Fidelis Chorus, under the direction of Jim Brown, will sing an anthem, "Jesus May Come Today." Of his Sunday sermon, the Rev. Mr. Wilson comments: "Christmas is no longer confined to one day—the 25th of December. It begins weeks before and extends days beyond. The period before Christmas may be a strenuous time of shopping and many other activities."

"After Christmas, many are exhausted from the activity of the holiday. There is always a danger that the real meaning and spirit of Christmas may be crowded out of our thinking and living. It is well for man to pause and consider the real meaning of this holy day on which God gave a Savior Son to the world."

"The world's supreme need at this Christmastime is that room should be made for the Christ Child. Our world has come nigh to perishing because it has made room for everything except the one thing needful—the love which came on that first Christmas Day. Christmas is not the commemorating of an isolated fact."

"It is the day of days on which we are to realize that the coming of God to man in His Holy Spirit is a continuous process, and that each of us at this season of the year can become human tabernacles for the indwelling of the Most High. The Spirit of Christmas is Christ."

Church school classes are to study a lesson, "Jesus, the Great Teacher."

Children's department will meet in the service center for a Bible lesson at 9:30 a. m. and at 10:30 a. m. the Rev. Jesus, the Great Teacher

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Matthew 13.

Jesus sat by the sea side and multitudes came to Him. He entered a boat and talked to them from it. He spoke in parables, telling first of a man who sowed his seed.

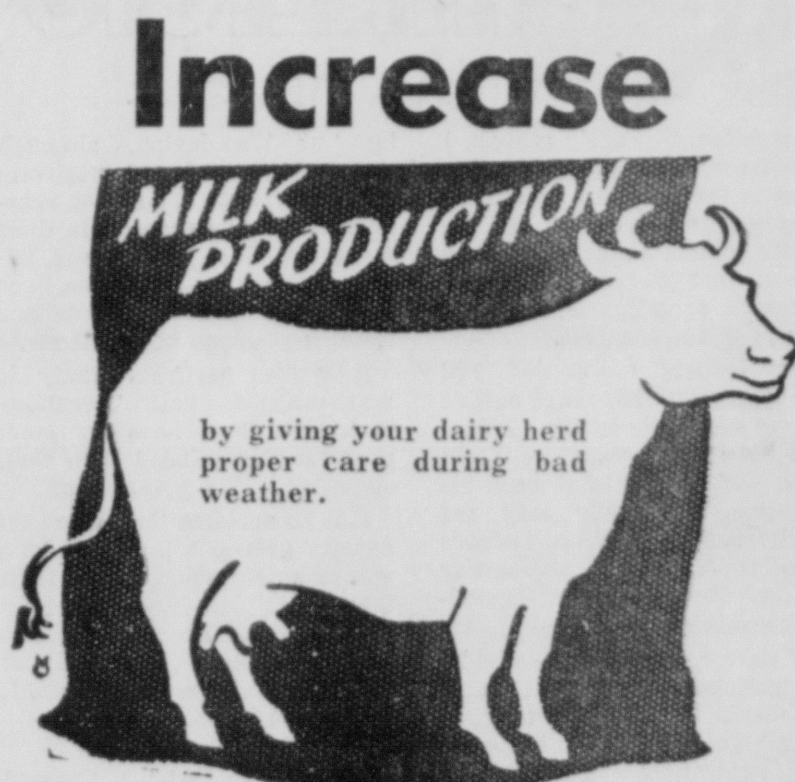

His disciples came to Jesus to ask why He spoke to the people in parables. He said it was because, seeing they saw not, hearing they heard not, and "neither do they understand."

Jesus next told of the man who sowed good seed, but, while he slept, his enemy came and sowed weeds in the field, so that they grew up mixed with the good grain.

In His home town Jesus taught in the synagogue. His hearers were astonished, saying, "Whence hath this man this wisdom, and these mighty works?" MEMORY VERSE—Matthew 13:54.

MAMIE EISENHOWER

MAMIE GENEVA DOUD Eisenhower, destined as mistress of the White House and to be much in the public eye during the next four years and familiar now to thousands as the General's "My Mamie" of campaign times, has already made a good approach to the esteem of the American people by saying that her main job is "looking after Ike."

This connotes a dedication to a family which most Americans always applaud in a woman. They will note with interest the many feminine careers outside the home, and even admire them upon occasion, but they reserve their greatest praise for the outstanding wife and mother.

They feel instinctively that the home is the center of civilization and the bulwark of American institutions. Many songs and tributes of fulsome praise have been devoted to the home builder. The career woman has few.

Aside from this qualification, which will be of notable value in the White House as a source of inspiration and moral uplift in America, Mrs. Eisenhower is personable, animated and has a facility for getting along with people which should contribute much to President Eisenhower's administration.

LANGUAGE POOR

BELATEDLY THE UNITED STATES realizes the fact that it has few foreign service of its growing worldwide responsibilities, to use a term in common usage. Especially specialists to carry the workaday burdens is there a shortage of language experts, particularly in areas such as South and Southeast Asia, Near and Middle East, Eastern Europe and the Balkans, where Communism is either a constant menace or reality.

The danger of this situation can be briefly illustrated by the U. S. State Department's experience in Indonesia. Not having an American-trained Indonesian specialist, the U. S. embassy had to rely on native translators. For a long time reports coming out of that new republic were uniformly optimistic and pro-American.

The government established a foreign service institute in 1946, but progress is slow. Admissions are limited, and few foreign service officers want the training for fear of getting stuck in some out-of-the-way place.

news behind the news

Editor's Note: Every Saturday this veteran Washington correspondent devotes his column to answering readers' questions of general interest on national and international policies and personalities. Questions may be sent direct to Ray Tucker at 6308 Hillcrest Place, Chevy Chase, Md.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6—"What has happened to the issue of corruption which figured so prominently in the Eisenhower-Stevenson campaign?" inquires Mrs. F. K. of Concord, N. H. "How many of the 'rascals' have been fired or sent to jail? And what are the prospects for future punishment?"

Answer: The principal result, it seems to me, has been the election of Dwight D. Eisenhower, and the end of a regime which had grown careless and callous. With Korea, corruption was a key factor in the GOP triumph.

It is true that a few internal revenue collectors and certain "small fry" have been discharged and a handful has been convicted. Justice Department informs me that other alleged offenders are still under government or grand jury investigation. But neither at Washington nor in U. S. district attorneys' offices throughout the country is there any enthusiasm for prosecution.

APATHY—Now that the issue has served its political purpose, the outgoing Democrats apparently feel that the question will be forgotten. Strangely enough, I find that the Republicans are disposed to forego many unfinished inquiries. Their reasons are politically understandable, although they do not do credit to their campaign promises of restoring honesty to Government.

GOP leaders on Capitol Hill fear that future headlines on this subject may convey the impression that their party, since it will be in control here, has been responsible. The public may get the impression that crookedness is to be expected, no matter whether Democrats or Republicans are in power.

Moreover, daily sessions in investigating committees tax a member's time and energy. It leaves them only a few hours for work on the floor and for running errands for their constituents. However, with new and square-shooting men at the top, the political atmosphere should improve.

IKE'S CABINET—"Don't you think that Eisenhower's Cabinet is lopsided with businessmen and bankers?" asks H. T. of Cheyenne, Wyo. "It seems to me that he has not given sufficient recognition to his supporters who appreciate the social and economic advances of the last 20 years, especially women and youngsters. I still have confidence in Ike, but I am worried."

The theory of collective bargaining is that the employer and representatives of the employees sit down to bargain over wages, hours, and other terms of employment until a meeting of the minds is reached. The "employer," in this sense, is the actual management of an enterprise; the "representatives of the workers" are labor union officials usually related to the particular enterprise or local labor union heads.

To many labor leaders, collective bargaining on this basis has been regarded as unsatisfactory because the local labor leaders are considered as capable of dealing with great matters; further, the trend in labor organizations has been, wherever possible, to deal with questions on an industry-wide basis rather than with particular enterprises.

The professionalization of labor union management has progressed since the NRA days, so that the local business manager of the union or a leader who has come up from the ranks is now being replaced or surrounded by men whose business in life is to work in labor unions and who regard such work as a profession. They approach labor problems not from the standpoint of the worker employed in a particular enterprise in a particular locality, but from the standpoint of over-all labor strategy in the effort to obtain a larger share of the economy for the worker.

The NRA was a device to abolish collective bargaining by substituting a government agency as a determining arbiter between a union and a trade association. After the NRA was declared unconstitutional, the policy of the Administration was not to revert to collective bargaining but to find another device by which the government would remain as the controlling factor in labor relations. The Wagner Act was passed and the National Labor Relations Board was established.

The government, under this board, became a strong factor in labor settlements. During the war, the wage board and a few other agencies of government assumed final powers in reference to wages, hours and working conditions. Some unions, such as John L. Lewis's United Mine Workers, resisted the government's policy of a Fascistic control over work.

The power of the government to seize plants, exercised 71 times during the Roosevelt and Truman regimes, gave the Administration a weapon which eliminated collective bargaining, because precisely how can anyone bargain with the political power of the state?

As a matter of fact, the only industrialist who effectively challenged this power was Sewell Avery of Montgomery Ward and the only labor leader has been John L. Lewis, of the United Mine Workers. Generally, the Administration has had its way in labor matters.

It can be said correctly that the C.I.O. has been a dominant element in the formulation of labor policies in the Truman Administration, but that is because Mr. Truman preferred it that way. The point is that the government is the determining factor in labor relations.

"What is Governor Stevenson's present status in the Democratic Party?" asks M. C. of Cfarleston, S. C. "Do you think his eloquence and personality will enable him to remain as actual leader?"

Answer: Much as I admire Governor Stevenson, I do not. Only two men kept a grip on their followers after a presidential defeat—Bryan and Dewey. The New York Governor accomplished it because he was an astute political mechanic, Bryan because of his golden voice and evangelistic appeal.

REALITIES — Stevenson does not have Dewey's interest in practical politics, or his shrewdness. The times are unpropitious for another Bryan. In his day an orator was an opera house attraction because there was almost no competing entertainment. With radio, television, movies, night clubs, sports and other attractions or distractions, the modest, philosophic and introverted Illinois governor would be lost. He has no desire to be a circus performer.

Moreover, his defeat was so devastating that he represents no powerful or widespread element among the Democrats. I would prefer to praise rather than bury Stevenson, but these are political realities.

SYNOPSIS
After a brilliant formal wedding, Roger and Emily Field settle in a fine old house on Beacon Hill, Boston, the girl of Emily's rich, eccentric grandfather. Brian Collins and David Solomont, law firm associates of Field, are frequent callers here. Teaching home, weary and spent one evening, Field finds his wife seated alone with Solomont.
CHAPTER SEVEN
WHEN Roger walked into the library, he saw David and Emily were seated close to the fire, so absorbed in what they were saying to each other that neither was instantly aware of his entrance.
For a moment, Roger had the strange feeling that he was the interloper, that it was David who really belonged there in the library, beside the fire with Emily. He tried unsuccessfully to suppress it as both preposterous and morbid, and went forward, making an effort to speak cordially and naturally, but the sickening sense of intrusion became stronger and stronger. Emily had not come quickly into the hall, to welcome him with a loving caress, the way she had always done before; instead she sat very still, her white dress dazzling against the crimson of her chair, her lovely face almost expressionless. David, on the contrary, leaped up, holding out his hand and exclaiming, "Hello there! You have had a day of it," he answered wearily. Even his voice did not sound like his own, just as this room did not seem like his own and Emily did not seem like his own. He turned away from David and looked at her, hoping for help, and she did not give it to him. He knew this must be because she could not, for some reason that he did not understand, and that he ought to help her out. Perhaps it would be better if he asked her to tell him what she had done, rather than to go on trying to tell her what he had done. Perhaps he should ask her how she happened to be sitting in her house on Joy Street, his and hers, alone with David Solomont, instead of being at the Copley Plaza with a group of their old friends. After she had told him that, everything would be all right. It was because she sat so still, because she did not smile or speak that everything seemed so strange and sickening. Well, he would ask her. But David spoke again before he could frame the question.
"Your loss was certainly my gain," David said, still with good cheer. "Emily was kind enough to call me up and ask me to fill in at Mr. Lathrop's dinner. Naturally, I was delighted to do so. Then, after dinner she decided she'd like to come back here and wait for you, instead of going on to the Waltz Evening. Shelman RED ROSE PIG & SOW MEAL

PIGS AND PROFITS
Getting pigs up to market weight in the shortest period of time is a major problem with swine producers. They know that economical feeding plus rapid growth is the key to the profit treasure chest.
The critical nutritional period starts with the unborn pig and continues until the farrowed pigs reach a weight of 75 pounds each. To assure a better start toward earlier, profitable market weight, many successful hog raisers feed to the brood sow and continue with it as a starting ration. It is a complete ration supplying the essential nutrients for this critical period, such as protein, vitamins, Vitamin B12 and Antibiotic Feed Supplement.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG
news behind the news
Editor's Note: Every Saturday this veteran Washington correspondent devotes his column to answering readers' questions of general interest on national and international policies and personalities. Questions may be sent direct to Ray Tucker at 6308 Hillcrest Place, Chevy Chase, Md.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—"What has happened to the issue of corruption which figured so prominently in the Eisenhower-Stevenson campaign?" inquires Mrs. F. K. of Concord, N. H. "How many of the 'rascals' have been fired or sent to jail? And what are the prospects for future punishment?"
Answer: The principal result, it seems to me, has been the election of Dwight D. Eisenhower, and the end of a regime which had grown careless and callous. With Korea, corruption was a key factor in the GOP triumph.
It is true that a few internal revenue collectors and certain "small fry" have been discharged and a handful has been convicted. Justice Department informs me that other alleged offenders are still under government or grand jury investigation. But neither at Washington nor in U. S. district attorneys' offices throughout the country is there any enthusiasm for prosecution.
APATHY—Now that the issue has served its political purpose, the outgoing Democrats apparently feel that the question will be forgotten. Strangely enough, I find that the Republicans are disposed to forego many unfinished inquiries. Their reasons are politically understandable, although they do not do credit to their campaign promises of restoring honesty to Government.
GOP leaders on Capitol Hill fear that future headlines on this subject may convey the impression that they party, since it will be in control here, has been responsible. The public may get the impression that crookedness is to be expected, no matter whether Democrats or Republicans are in power.
Moreover, daily sessions in investigating committees tax a member's time and energy. It leaves them only a few hours for work on the floor and for running errands for their constituents. However, with new and square-shooting men at the top, the political atmosphere should improve.
IKE'S CABINET—"Don't you think that Eisenhower's Cabinet is lopsided with businessmen and bankers?" asks H. T. of Cheyenne, Wyo. "It seems to me that he has not given sufficient recognition to his supporters who appreciate the social and economic advances of the last 20 years, especially women and youngsters. I still have confidence in Ike, but I am worried."
Answer: As I have noted here recently, the new board of direcwhat we call the "pendulum of history" that keeps our national clock running rationally.

"What is Governor Stevenson's present status in the Democratic Party?" asks M. C. of Charleston, S. C. "Do you think his eloquence and personality will enable him to remain as actual leader?"
Answer: Much as I admire Governor Stevenson, I do not. Only two men kept a grip on their followers after a presidential defeat—Bryan and Dewey. The New York Governor accomplished it because he was an astute political mechanic, Bryan because of his golden voice and evangelistic appeal.
REALITIES — Stevenson does not have Dewey's interest in practical politics, or his shrewdness. The times are unpropitious for another Bryan. In his day an orator was an opera house attraction because there was almost no competing entertainment. With radio, television, movies, night clubs, sports and other attractions or distractions, the modest, philosophic and introverted Illinois governor would be lost. He has no desire to be a circus performer.
Moreover, his defeat was so devastating that he represents no powerful or widespread element among the Democrats. I would prefer to praise rather than bury Stevenson, but these are political realities.

DEMS DYNAMIC — There is another intriguing and speculative aspect in the shift from the Roosevelt-Truman regime to the Eisenhower philosophy. In both good and bad ways, the Democrats are usually the more idealistic, visionary, dynamic group when in charge at Washington. They are less afraid of change and pioneering. I have in mind, of course, the Wilson and Roosevelt administrations, and even Cleveland's.
But the record suggests that the Republicans are able, more efficient and more economical operators and administrators. They rarely rescind or wipe out Democratic reforms, but they do make them operate better. It is

Christmas Idea Bazaar Presented By Home Groups

Event Is Held In Parish House

A Christmas bazaar of ideas and articles for Christmas giving, decorations, baking and gift wrapping was presented recently in St. Philip's parish house by the Home Demonstration Groups of Pickaway County.

Ideas presented from the work basket included a bun cozy, casserole carriers, felt slippers, stuffed animals, neckline accents, aprons, dust mitts, and lapel novelties.

Gifts from the mixing bowl included, candies, cookies, and cakes. The cake idea was carried out in the centerpiece, which was made by Mrs. Gladden Troutman and Mrs. Donald Wolfe. The cake was cut in the shape of a Christmas tree, iced with fluffy white frosting and decorated with candies.

A few of the cookie recipes included in the idea booklet distributed to those attending were as follows:

Melting Moments
1 C. powdered sugar
2 C. cake flour
1 t. soda
1/2 t. cream of tartar
1/2 t. salt
1 C. butter
1 egg
1 t. vanilla
1/2 C. chopped nuts
Sift together sugar, flour, soda, cream of tartar and salt; Cream butter and egg; add dry ingredients and vanilla; With wet hands shape into balls the size of a walnut; Place on greased cookie sheets. Press flat with tines of a fork. Sprinkle with nuts. Bake at 350 F. about 10 minutes.

Cherry Winks
2 C. flour, sifted
1 t. baking powder
1/2 t. soda
1/2 t. salt
3/4 C. shortening
2 C. sugar
2 eggs
3 t. milk
1 t. vanilla
1 C. pecans, chopped
1 C. dates, chopped
2 C. cornflakes, crushed
Maraschino cherries
Sift together flour, baking powder, soda and salt. Combine shortening and sugar; mix well. Blend in eggs. Add milk and vanilla. Blend in dry ingredients; mix well. Add pecans and dates; mix well. Roll on dough (a level T. per cookie) in crushed cornflakes. Place on greased baking sheet. Top each cookie with 1/4 cherry. Bake in moderate oven (375 F.) 10 to 12 minutes. Do not stack or store until cold. Makes about 5 dozen cookies.

Kriss Kringle Sticks
1 1/2 C. sifted flour
1 t. cream of tartar
1/2 t. baking soda
1/2 t. salt
1/2 C. soft shortening
1/2 C. granulated sugar
1 egg yolk unbeaten
4 t. warm water
1 egg white, unbeaten
3/4 C. sifted confectioners sugar
Sift together first 4 ingredients. With electric mixer or spoon, thoroughly mix shortening and sugar until very light and fluffy. At low speed, beat in yolk and water, then flour mixture, just until mixed; chill till easy to handle. Start heating oven. On lightly floured, cloth covered board, roll dough 1/4 inch thick. Combine confectioners sugar with egg white; spread over dough. Cut into 3" x 1/2" strips. Sprinkle with chopped nuts, coconut, colored sugar, or chocolate shot. Bake on ungreased cookie sheet until done, at 350 F. for about 12 minutes.

Gift wrapping suggestions included using plain paper, tied with several strands of red yarn; small tufts of cotton glued on stitched at intervals on yarn; braiding different colored yarns to tie packages; odds and ends of braid and ric rac; use of cut figured or striped material cut on the bias for use instead of ribbon. Pinking shears give a nice effect.

Other suggestions included the use of aluminum foil for hard to wrap gifts; finger painting on non-absorbent paper for wrapping paper; use of wall paper for wrapping gifts; and the use of two kinds of paper for one gift.

Novel decorations explained or displayed at the meeting consisted of an unusual centerpiece made of a piece of coal or cinder. Mrs. Dick Tootle and Mrs. Mary Wardell submitted the following idea.

Mix 1/2 C. salt, 1 T. bluing and 1 C. warm water. Pour over a big clean cinder in a large glass bowl. In a few days snow salt will form on the cinder and it may be placed in a mirror. Secure twine trees with modeling clay, sprinkle with artificial snow and add small figures to make a winter scene.

A centerpiece made of moth balls may be made in a glass fish bowl or vase, which is plain. Mrs. Charles Hissey suggests that for each cup of water, use about 2 t. soda and 2 t. vinegar in the bowl, plus coloring and five or six moth balls. The formula causes activity within the bowl or vase for two or more hours.

During the afternoon Weta Mae and Betty Lou Leist offered accordion selections, and Mrs. Russell Hedges offered a reading entitled, "The Mansion."

Those in charge of the project were Mrs. Dorsey Bumgarner and Mrs. Floy Brobst, reception; Mrs. Noble Barr and Mrs. Gladden Troutman, preliminary preparation of display hall; Mrs. William Deffenbaugh, Mrs. Robert Bowers and Mrs. Neil Morris, gifts from the mixing bowl; Mrs. Wayne Fee, gifts from the work basket; Mrs. Clifford Walker and Mrs. Elmer Neff, Christmas centerpieces; Mrs. Wendell Neff and Mrs. Clark Smith, gift wrapping; Mrs. Gerald Miller and Mrs. William Vance, finger painting; Mrs. Donald Wolfe, Mrs. Fred Glick and Mrs. Clarence Maxson, textile painting; and Mrs. Russell Hedges, Swedish weaving.

Pickaway Home Council officials include, Mrs. Dorsey Bumgarner, president; Mrs. Clark Smith, vice-president; Mrs. Neil Morris, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. J. B. Stevenson, world citizenship chairman, and Mrs. Leora Sayre, Home Demonstration agent.

Mrs. Helen Pickens Is Guest Speaker At Child League

Child Culture League members met Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Richard Davis of Atwater Ave. with Mrs. Emmett Evans assisting.

Two new members, Mrs. Leo Black and Mrs. Ben Metzger were introduced. Mrs. Metzger was named to replace Mrs. John Jenkins on the philanthropic committee.

Mrs. Evans gave a report on the Christmas basket and the selection of a needy family. It was announced that the children's Christmas party will be held Dec. 17 at 4 p. m. in the Methodist church basement. Husband's night will be observed at the next meeting and a covered dish supper will be served.

Guest speaker for the evening was Mrs. Helen Pickens, County Health Nurse, who discussed, "Development of the School Age Child."

Mrs. Pickens said that to develop a happy, useful citizen, a child must have a happy, contented home life.

A child starting to school, is entering into the independent stage, she said. She also talked of other phases of development and said that parents must instill pride in a child to establish stability and try to teach them to work out their own problems and work together toward common needs. A question and answer period followed Mrs. Pickens' talk.

These Days

Within the government, a number of labor experts have developed as a professional group with great authority and power. The original National Labor Board was a Communist infiltrated body, dominated by men out of the Harold Ware cell.

This is not true of the present NLRB which has settled down to an ordinary bureaucracy. A group of professors in universities have become acknowledged labor experts and are called in by various labor departments.

The Secretary of Labor has been reduced to a nonentity in the government labor set-up. The first Secretary of Labor was William B. Wilson, of the National Union of Miners.

He was appointed by Woodrow Wilson. Presidents Harding, Coolidge and Hoover appointed James J. Davis of the Amalgamated Association Iron, Steel and Tin Workers of America Union. Hoover subsequently appointed William N. Doak, editor of "Railroad Trainmen," and Franklin D. Roosevelt put in that office Frances Perkins, a social worker.

It was during Mrs. Perkins' regime that Roosevelt organized various agencies which deprived the department of its proper functions. Truman's first Secretary was a lame-duck Senator, L. B. Schwellenbach, who did not serve long; he then appointed a Boston politician with A.F. of L. affiliations, Maurice J. Tobin.

The Department has been given to the American Federation of Labor, with the appointment of Martin P. Durkin, of the Plumbers and Pipe-Fitters.

Bess Truman's Mother Is Dead

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Mrs. David Wilcock Wallace, mother-in-law of President Truman, died in the White House Friday. She was 90 years old.

Specific cause of death was given as cerebral thrombosis. She had been ill for several months.

Death came only six weeks before President Truman was to leave the White House. He and his family are going home to Independence, Mo., on Jan. 20, when Dwight Eisenhower becomes president of the United States. Mrs. Truman is the eldest of Mrs. Wallace's four children. Her three sons are living.

On and after this date I will not be responsible for debts contracted by any other than myself, Frank W. Puckett, Stoutsville, O.

MIKE ROONEY and Terry Stonerock shared top scoring honors for the Red and Black courtmen in their first winning role, each collecting 12 points. High scorer for the losers was Ed Massey, who also tallied a dozen markers.

Tiger Quintet Bests Scioto In 76-65 Tilt

Walnut's Tiger basketball team was kept on its toes Friday night in collecting a 76-65 victory over Scioto Buffalo cagers on the Buffalo home hardwood.

Tiger cagers leaped into a 27-22 first period advantage and managed to stay ahead of the host crew throughout the match—but not by much.

The Tigers posted a 45-40 margin over the Buffalos in the second stanza of the test and a 63-54 lead in the third period before taking the 11-point victory.

Scioto, which posted 106 points last week in defeating Canaan, was earlier rated far below the 65 points it managed to eke out against the Tigers.

RONALD Althaus of Walnut was the night's top scorer in that game and for county league competition, racking up 32 points. Leading scorer for the losing defenders was a Bill Martin with 21.

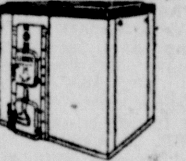

Scioto's reservists came through for the home crowd, however, fashioning a 48-40 victory over the invading Tiger juniors.

Tiger Quintet Bests Scioto In 76-65 Tilt

Walnut's Tiger basketball team was kept on its toes Friday night in collecting a 76-65 victory over Scioto Buffalo cagers on the Buffalo home hardwood.

Tiger cagers leaped into a 27-22 first period advantage and managed to stay ahead of the host crew throughout the match—but not by much.

The Tigers posted a 45-40 margin over the Buffalos in the second canto of the test and a 63-54 lead in the third period before taking the 11-point victory.

Scioto, which posted 106 points last week in defeating Canaan, was earlier rated far below the 65 points it managed to eke out against the Tigers.

RONALD Althaus of Walnut was the night's top scorer in that game and for county league competition, racking up 32 points. Leading scorer for the losing defenders was Bill Martin with 21.

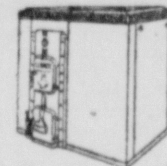

Scioto's reservists came through for the home crowd, however, fashioning a 48-40 victory over the invading Tiger juniors.
